Clinical AI and Pharmacy Informatics

AI PROMPTING | AI EVALUATION | CLINICAL AI | INFORMATICS

Why Deborah Fits Clinical AI and Pharmacy Informatics Roles

Registered pharmacist with 25+ years of licensed practice who builds with AI. She writes the prompts and specifications that direct AI coding agents and large language models to build, test, and deploy working tools, and she evaluates every output with a clinician's judgment across medications, nutrition, and the body's interconnected systems. She prototyped an AI-assisted lab-trend dashboard and led an EHR implementation.

25+ YEARS licensed clinical practice	5 AI platforms in regular use	2 AI quality-check skills built	ACTIVE RPH NC #14013, under Deborah M. Allen

Typical Responsibilities: How Deborah Delivers

AI PROMPTING AND AI-DIRECTED BUILDING

Write effective prompts and specifications for AI	DIRECT EVIDENCE Writes multi-step instructions and the standards AI tools follow for research, drafting, document building, and scheduled job searches.
Direct AI coding agents to build, test, and deploy tools	DIRECT EVIDENCE Directs Claude Code to build, test, and deploy tools, including a document pipeline, a live professional website on GitHub Pages, and a scheduled cloud search agent.
Build automated quality checks	EXCEEDS REQUIREMENT Designed reusable AI skills with explicit pass and fail criteria: an applicant-tracking readability checker and a proofreading checker that run on every document.

CLINICAL VALIDATION AND HEALTH TECHNOLOGY

Evaluate AI output for clinical accuracy	DIRECT EVIDENCE Catches inaccuracies, omissions, and overstated claims before use, and verifies every claim against primary sources in PubMed and UpToDate.
Apply AI to clinical data	DIRECT EVIDENCE Prototyped an AI-assisted lab dashboard that turned lab PDFs into time-series data and AI-summarized trends, with practitioner review before any change.
Implement clinical technology	DIRECT EVIDENCE Led selection and implementation of Elation EHR and Hint, integrating lab portals and Zoom for a rapid move to virtual care.

CLINICAL AI AND INFORMATICS

Common Qualifications: Met and Exceeded

PharmD, RPh, or an equivalent degree	DIRECT EVIDENCE Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy with an active NC RPh license #14013 (issued under Deborah M. Allen), the standard entry-level pharmacist degree before the national PharmD transition.
Hands-on experience with generative AI and LLMs	EXCEEDS REQUIREMENT Uses Claude, Claude Code, ChatGPT, Gemini, Perplexity, and Copilot, and directs agentic AI through multi-step, scheduled workflows.
Programming or software development	QUALIFICATION CONTEXT Does not write code by hand. Directs AI coding agents with precise specifications, tests the results, and verifies them before use.
Five or more years of clinical practice	EXCEEDS REQUIREMENT Twenty-five years, including 15 in high-volume pharmacy practice with daily patient care.

What Deborah Brings to Your Team

- Prompts and specifications that get AI to the right result the first time.
- Clinical judgment that catches what an AI gets wrong.
- Working tools built and shipped with AI coding agents.
- A teacher's ability to help clinicians use AI safely.
- Hands-on health informatics: an EHR implementation and a prototyped AI lab-trend dashboard.

Career Highlights

AI prototype
designed an AI-assisted lab dashboard that turns lab PDFs into trends, with a practitioner approving every change

Verified output directs agentic AI tools for research and drafting, and checks every claim against primary sources

Virtual care led the Elation EHR and Hint implementation that enabled a rapid move to virtual care
