Why Deborah Fits Supplement and Diagnostics Roles

Deborah is a functional-medicine pharmacist with 25+ years in pharmacy and healthcare. Her expertise spans the interconnected body: how the gut, immune, nervous, endocrine, and metabolic systems influence one another, and how medications, nutrition, and supplements act across them. She led development and scaling of a 25-formulation private-label line of about $360,000 a year, from formula vetting to final label approval.

Typical Responsibilities: How Deborah Delivers

SCIENCE, PRODUCT, AND QUALITY

Translate nutrition and supplement science accurately	DIRECT EVIDENCE Built the practice's education program, from blog posts to care plans, then published label-standard reviews of her own product sheets.
Formula evaluation, sourcing, and COA review	DIRECT EVIDENCE Vetted manufacturers' formulas for excipients, absorbability, and purity; reviewed batch COAs and stability data from 3 manufacturers.
Claims substantiation and label compliance	DIRECT EVIDENCE Wrote and substantiated DSHEA structure/function claims, gave final label approval, and explained California Proposition 65 to practitioners.

EDUCATION AND COMMUNITY

Educate practitioners and consumers	DIRECT EVIDENCE Led three twice-monthly mentorship cohorts for MDs, DOs, and NPs, ran weekly family roundtables, and presented for the Personalized Lifestyle Medicine Institute and the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs.
Explain how body systems connect	DIRECT EVIDENCE Speaks on The Interconnected Body and Pediatric Immune Resilience. At Infinite Health, led family roundtables on the gut-brain connection, inflammatory foods, immune resilience, and histamine and sleep.
Product integrity advocacy	EXCEEDS REQUIREMENT Changed a manufacturer's decision with evidence: after she documented an efficacy concern, the manufacturer restored the original formula.
